OPERATION.What the Inter-State Commerce Commission Has to Say on the Subject.
Hazard Greatly Decreased.The Inter-State Commerce commission in its annual report has the following to say regarding the use of safety appliances on railroads:The safety-appliance law became fully effective on August 1, 1900, and the beneficent results of its operation are now being realized. The greatly increased security to life and limb by which the men on freight trains and in freight yards now perform their work is no apparent on every day.Evidence of the improved conditions resulting from the practically universal use of automatic couplers on freight cars appears in the records of accidents and in the testimony of railroad officials and employees. Further proof from a financial standpoint is also found in the records of the railway claim departments, as well as in those of the several trainmen's associations.This gratifying state of affairs is due to the Federal statute, the railroad company's united action, and the efficient inspectors employed by the commission. These inspectors, who are competent men of long experience in car and train work, have taken note of all features of operation, improvements, and repairs which seem to be germane to the work on which they are engaged, and this has proven satisfactory to the railroad presidents and managers, and has resulted in establishing amicable relations with the employees. The various railroad technical associations, including the American Railway Association and the Master Car Builders' Association, have contributed in marked degree to the success of the law.The report then shows that for the year ending June 30, 1901, the number of employees killed in coupling accidents was less than in the preceding year by about 25 per cent, and the number injured was less by about 52 per cent.Attention is called to the fact that the accident reports promulgated by the commission under the accident law of March 3, 1901, under which precise descriptions are given for the coupling accidents, and that the words "killed" and "injured" and that this has resulted in a uniform system of reporting. According to the accident returns for the month of July, only 4 employees were killed during that month while coupling and uncoupling cars. This warrants the expectation that casualties due to this cause will be less for 1902 than for 1901. For the full year ending June 30, 1902, the number killed in coupling accidents averaged 2 1/2 per month.A RUNAWAY HACK.A runaway hack caused quite a little consternation on the street yesterday. The horse and vehicle, without a driver, came up Fort street at a furious rate, around and along Hotel, up Richards to Beretania, then to Punchbowl where the animal swerved again and went seawards. No damage seems to have been done and nobody hurt.NOVEL ADVERTISEMENT.The management of the Santa Fe system has decided to establish at Albuquerque a large archaeological and ethnological museum. The purpose of the venture is largely advertising, as it is with a view of providing a novel attraction at that place. The museum building will be 120 by 40 feet, and will contain a collection to begin with which will be valued at between $100, 000 and $150,000. For two or three years the officials of the company have had agents all over the world making collections for the museum, and one of the agents purchased for $10,000 a collection of Alaskan Indian relics at Seattle. The collections will be largely from the ruins of New Mexico and Arizona, but will include exhibits from Africa, New Zealand, Borneo, Australia, Hawaii, and, in fact, almost every country on the globe. It is expected that the institution will attract many visitors.RISTORI HONORED.The eightieth birthday anniversary of the Marquise del Grillo (Adelaide Ristori) is being made the occasion for many celebrations. King Victor Emmanuel, accompanied by a numerous suite, visited and felicitated the empress, who held a kind of court, the Mayors and other dignitaries of a number of towns paying their respects to her.Queen Helena sent the Marquise a present and she received many congratulatory telegrams from monarchs and other distinguished personages of various countries. At the command of Emperor William, the German Embas-sador Count von Wedel, congratulated the Marquise upon the eightieth anniversary of her birth, expressed the regret of the Emperor at not being personally acquainted with the actress and presented to her a beautiful basket of flowers.A NEW OBSERVATORY.The Meteorological Observatory planned by H. I. H. Prince Yamashina will be established on the summit of Mount Tausuba and necessary apparatus was installed by the Japanese army.The Central Meteorological Observatory. Four days later the whole scenery of the summit was photographed. The thermometer recorded fifteen degrees below the freezing point. It is reported that the gross amount of funds required for the establishment of the meteorological observatory aggregated about Y. 50,000 and that the amount of expenditure to be defrayed annually for it is fixed at about Y. 3,000.—Japan Gazette.OUTLOOK IN HAYTI.People familiar with Haytian affairs would not be surprised if trouble occurred in the "black republic" next May. President Sam has an active competitor for the chief magistracy in Cathelines Fouchard, now living at Kingston, Jamaica, recently an exile. Fouchard is a banker, and was formerly minister of finance under President Sam. As the result of alleged intrigues against Sam, Fouchard left the islands. It is asserted that in Jamaica he is carrying on intrigues to win the support of the Haytian army with a view to the ultimate violent depose-ment of President Sam.President Sam's adherents say his term will not end until May, 1903. The adherents of Fouchard say that under the constitution he should retire on May 15 next, and they deny his right to name his successor. Registration for the general election for deputies in Hayti is in progress, and the Fouchardites accuse President Sam of all sorts of illegal practices to control the vote. President Sam is also accused of various acts of cruelty and oppression toward the adherents of Fouchard.—New York Sun.
